WILLIAM EATON HORNER JR. #II

William Eaton Horner, Jr., son of William Eaton Horner, Sr., and Jane Freeman Pea, was born at Salt Lake City, Utah, February 1, 1856. He married Amanda Jane Smith on September 29, 1879, at Heber City. She was the daughter of Thomas C. Smith and Sarah Frampton, and was born in Springville, Utah, July 12, 1859. William and Amanda lived in Heber, and to this union was born seven children.

At an early age, Mr. Horner lost the sight of his eyes, caused from a gun accident at the sawmill. Despite this handicap, he was very efficient as a bookkeeper and merchandise buyer for the A. Hatch & Co. store. He was very prominent in business affairs and was one of the leading stockmen of the community.

His wife, Amanda, was a loyal companion and devoted mother. People spoke of her as a good cook, her specialty being pies. She had a busy life, but found time to enjoy knitting and embroidery.

At the age of forty, the father of this happy family died, leaving his wife with the responsibility of rearing their six children. He left her with a good home, but her life was spent in hard work. She provided well for her family by doing many jobs, such as taking in washing and doing housework for other people.

For many years she was janitor of the first schoolhouse in the east part of town. Many cold winter nights found her and her children carrying coal that the school might be comfortable. She arose in the early morning hours to shovel the walks clear of snow by the time school commenced. Later, when the North School was built, she continued as janitor. Although her task was much greater, she was always found cheerful and happy, and was loved by all the school children. She died in Heber City on May 31, 1939, at the age of seventy-nine.

the risk of mismanagement is very small since, even in the rare instance in which an invasive cancer is misdiagnosed as a precursor lesion and treated with cryotherapy, it will usually be detected on the first follow-up visit, and the misdiagnosis will cause only a four-month delay in treatment. Although even this short delay is undesirable, it is acceptable in the context of the total program. However, if the patient becomes lost to follow-up, the error is compounded, and a prolonged delay may result in metastases and death. In patients with abnormal Papanicolaou smears, delay in therapy is associated with increased mortality.

Although the colposcopic triage method was introduced in the United States only about 10 years ago, it is presently taught at most university medical centers and has been adopted in private gynecological practice. If the skilled use of colposcopy and cryotherapy is available, this approach is the method of choice. If the technique is not widely available, refer-
